Dear Mr Camenzuli,

I would like to thank you for your letter of 5 November 2018 concerning the importance of the Cost-Benefit Analysis process for European projects receiving cohesion funding.

The European Parliament shares your views on how important it is that local communities are consulted at an early stage on all projects, and is also keen to ensure the full transparency of the planning process.

I have passed your comments on to Ms Constanze Krehl and Mr Andrey Novakov, the co-rapporteurs in the Committee on Regional Development for the rules on cohesion funding in the next financing period, which will run from 2021 to 2027. I am sure they will take your views into account when preparing Parliament's position on the future of cohesion policy.

Yours sincerely,

Antonio Tajani
